After the Election: What Next???

JOEL LANDY organizes and promotes events for social justice and environmental issues. From corporate media and class warfare to climate chaos and the NRA, Joel delivers intelligent songs with wit and humor in a style that reminds many of a young Phil Ochs. His music has been published in Sing Out! magazine and heard on Pacifica Radio stations. He also produces the award-winning television program, Songs of Freedom. singfreedom.org

BEV GRANT uses music as a means to express her position on longstanding social dynamics and societal issues. Her songs tackle themes of social justice, feminism, and workers' rights, reflecting her commitment to using her art as a tool for change. Bev has founded many bands over the years, including The Human Condition, Bev Grant and the Dissident Daughters, The Miller Sisters, Wool&Grant, and the Brooklyn Women's Chorus. She was awarded the 2017 ASCAP Foundation's Jay Gorney award and the Labor Heritage Foundation's Joe Hill award. bevgrant.com

DILSON HERNANDEZ is a Dominican musician from the Bronx. He made his Off-Broadway debut at the Triad Theatre with his one-man show Bachatú. Dilson has composed for a variety of Off-Broadway productions such as Guadalís del Carmen's Bees and Honey (MCC Theatre) and Julissa Calderoón's Vaámonos! (Intar Theatre). He has taught English in Haiti, built dorm spaces for children in rural India, and led music workshops and advocated at courtrooms for incarcerated youth in New York City. Currently Dilson curates Social Impact Programs at Carnegie Hall. dilsonhernandez.com hot glue & the gun craft intimate, interactive theater-rock. Founding members Carrie Klein & joEL McGlynn explore the gluey intersections of artistry & community. Art is not a spectator sport. hotglueandthegun.com

THE REPRESSIONS (Barbara Dragon and Nate Lay) write genre-jumping songs with tongue-twisting, literary lyrics, guitars, synth, and two powerful voices full of melodic harmony. Their songs have folk-punk activist messages mixed with fairy tale dreams. The Repressions have played over 500 shows and released an album and sixteen singles. They livestream twice a week on Twitch, incorporating prizes, colorful costumes, and original artwork into their performance. They dedicate their music to anyone who has ever been ridiculed for being sensitive, kind, smart, or ill. therepressions.com

A Capella Night!

Hilo
Hilo is an unaccompanied folk duo with tight harmonies & loose sci-fi shtick. They bring ancient songs of human rights, human stories, and human work into the future. Their songs are traditional, but their vibe, banter, and arrangements are out of this world. Laura Ciporen and Lissa Michalak can usually be found on Hilo station, using ancient songs to coordinate their work on the engineering crew. Their colleagues have compared them to a giant can of space worms. hilotradsongs.com

Justin Perry
The young and remarkably talented Justin Perry sings in a wide range of world and historical musical traditions, from country blues, to early opera, to the traditional songs of the British Isles and their descendant cultures in the Americas. He is a singer, artist, poet, and songwriter, and also engages in sculpture, drawing, and painting. He also writes some of his own original lyrical compositions. This performance will be Justin's professional debut. Don't miss it!

Queer Music Night!

Queer Voices Sung
Queer Voices Sung is a classical music project focused on celebrating the queer excellence that goes unsung in our genre. Classical music has always been queer art, but it is rarely show-cased as such. The inside jokes, the delicately disguised yearning; QVS strives to bring these elements of the music out from in between the lines! Taking a light-hearted, joyful approach to celebrating queer history, they present music by both classic and contemporary queer composers sung by exceptional LGBTQ+ performers. HannahLuv HannahLuv is an independent queer artist from Harlem, NY. She draws inspiration from her favorite artists like Liz McAlpine and Phoebe Bridgers. When living in London HannahLuv performed at Ram Jam Records in Kingston where she wrote her most popular song, "I Fell In Love With The Sun." Her music often takes inspiration from cities she has visited, like Dublin, where every bar was playing an old Irish folk song. She hopes to continue making indie folk music for the queer community and anyone in need of something to relate to.

Coming in December:
12-5: Charlie King + Tret Fure
12-12: Chris Tompkins & Friends
12-19: hot glue & the gun
Sally Campbell & Jackson Gillman
